What should I do? I have made many wonderful friends through this ministry. Some are leaders of ministries that are closed to diversities Unidiversal is open to. They want to open opportunities to build relationship and become inclusive. But I haven't been able to keep up with all of them, mostly due to funding challenges. Diversity communities are well known for raving about exclusion among traditional churches, it's time to stop promoting division and allow us to become the one Body of Christ we are meant to be.

2012, Apocalypse or Arrival?

Happy New Year and welcome to one of the most exciting times ever experienced in this world! Are you living ready or are you living in fear of what is coming? Are you assured in faith or a bystander waiting to see if things are going to work out?

In the past, moves of God were trying to develop people to move forward, many times nudging and coaxing against our resistance to His Will. It is time to challenge ourselves to constantly take hard looks at what is real and what is not. The first thing each of us needs to identify is if spiritual things or physical experiences are the greatest reality in our lives and realize how our choice to believe one or the other affects our lives. Most people are hesitant, if not outright resilient, against approaching this subject much, because it is a "real" challenge. But, don't let your oil lamp go dry. The Holy Spirit of God is the oil that is ready, willing, able, and more than enough to fill your life and cause you to shine to light the way not only for yourself, but many others in the hopelessness of this world.

The Bible speaks clearly of the last days and how hopeless it is when our eyes are focused on the world more than on His Will for everything going on (Luke 21:26). This includes His designed purpose for each of our lives. God knew the end before the beginning was even started and now He knows you before you understand how to know yourself more. 2012 is definitely a time to stop focusing on ourselves. We can't accomplish anything of great value by putting the focus on ourselves more than on what we are to do for God! He is our source and strength, He is our comfort in every trouble, God has no beginning or end and He loves us so much that we can have complete confidence in Him.

Stop Doubting

Now, with all of that said, stop the doubts and fears from past experiences where we have failed ourselves by focusing on our shortcomings. Replace that self-destructiveness with seeing yourself in the grace that God sees you with. He forgave, He forgot, He let go, He holds nothing against you with no holds barred! We make mistakes and bad choices, but He makes up for those and goes on to remake everything better than it could have been even if we had not made mistakes and bad choices. God is more than enough and has no cliques or exclusion in His heart of hearts. God created and God never gave up no matter what His enemy may have said in your, my, or other people's hearts and minds. Stand up, be strong, don't accept the will of the unGodly whether it comes from spiritual forces, friends, family, or collaborators. God is enough and He's all anybody needs. Beyond that, and because of that, we only need to turn around and open our hearts to others with the same unearned love as He has freely given to us. Join me in this prayer for 2012:

Heavenly Father, in the blessed name of Jesus my Lord, Messiah, and King; I pray for strength beyond understanding, faith without measure, and love that never fails to permeate my life and set my standard for living. I claim victory over every expression of God's enemy in and around me, through my heart and mind. I choose this and every day that I will always get up when I fall, do good in the face of wrong, repay humility for arrogance, make up for others shortcomings, express faith in the face of doubt, set my feet on the solid rock of Your Word, make peace at whatever price to me, and allow others to pluck the fruit of joy as it grows from my life. You are my strength and my song, You are my everlasting peace in times of trouble, You are my joy in every situation, You are my rock and my shield against anything that may come against Your purposes in me. My Lord and my God, bless me as I am a blessing, help those who choose to close their hearts and minds to the faith of others, and make me an instrument of your beautiful love by the shed blood, torturous death, rush to burial, and new revelation in the light of your glorious miracle of resurrection. Multiplied Amen's, Hallelujah!

Repeat that prayer throughout the coming year along with continuing in prayer over all things. Make every day a perpetual prayer kind of day; recognize that God is with you all the time, wherever you may be in whatever you may be doing. (Acts 12:5, Romans 1:9, 1 Thessalonians 5:17, 2 Timothy 1:3)

Let others believe that 2012 is a decrepit year of destruction and let them make every excuse for their reasoning. Let others believe planets are found around other stars because the star wobbles a little; even though our knowledge can't even determine what causes our own earth to wobble without faith in speculation. Let others try to resolve global, energy, and waste issues with centillions of dollars and it won't make a hair of difference among our seven billion people unless we stop putting faith in money and start putting God-given faith in average people's needs and desires to do our part for ourselves with FIFFE (Free Independent Fossil Free Energy).

But don't let your faith waiver from the Almighty God who left documentation of the history of the world, the signs of the times, and eternity to come. I want to share some of what I have seen.

Christina Oliver's recent notes from Pastor Chuck Breckenridge's lesson at Diversity Christian Fellowship International for 2012 here.

New Challenges for a New Year!

1st - Get your priorities in order - Matthew 6:21 says "For where your treasure is, there your heart will be also." When we place God first in our lives above money, jobs, ourselves and even our friends, God will reward you greatly.

2nd - Find balance in your relationships - Matthew 6:24 says "No one can serve two masters. Either you will hate the one and love the other, or you will be devoted to the one and despise the other. You cannot serve both God and money." Keep in mind that it's important to fellowship with others just as we fellowship with God.

3rd - Make necessary changes - Matthew 6:25 says "Therefore I tell you, do not worry about your life, what you will eat or drink; or about your body, what you will wear. Is not life more than food, and the body more than clothes?" Worry is a result of lack of planning. If you want things to be different in 2012, do it differently than you did in 2011.

4th - Challenge yourself - In 2012, take some time each month (above your responsibilities) to: .....Do something for God .....Do something for others .....Do something for yourself

The Power Of God

This is the greatest hindrance to the power of God working in our lives today. How can we expect miracles and healings of any kind, supernatural signs and wonders, or even the least bit of comfort and growth in the claiming of God, if we choose to judge and/or condemn others stating faith in Christ? So many are willing to offer heartless prayers and rituals to God while willingly ignoring the faith of other diversities sincerely claiming the risen Savior as their own. Many believers are focused on those who they think are worthy while telling others how to change their lives to be acceptable by God. We tend to not only ignore our own unavoidable shortcomings (sin), we don't even begin to try to comprehend and pursue the nearly 100% of seven billion people in the world today who don't believe that Jesus lived, was tortured and died, buried, and miraculously rose again for all our salvation. This error includes 99% of the three billion of the seven billion claiming to be Christian. But I choose to believe the 99% are flexible to be molded by God into the image of Christ Jesus.

Matthew 20:16 So the last shall be first, and the first last: for many be called, but few chosen.

Matthew 22:14 For many are called, but few are chosen.

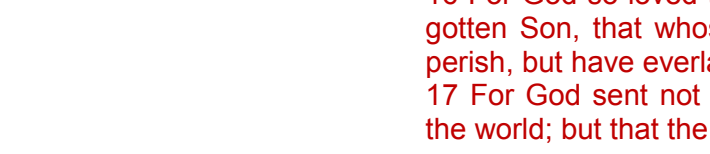

Are we saved by the shed and resurrected blood of Jesus or are we not? When the basis and straight forward terms of God's Word says that many are called it does not mean a small percentage of those who attend our church groups. What a miniscule vision compared to the seven billion population worldwide. "Many are called" means a large proportion of ALL billions, throughout the world. And when God's Word says that few are chosen, it is not referring to a few ministers recognized by our little groups or denominations; it is talking about "whoever" among the seven billion will come to believe in Jesus' life, death, and resurrection.

John 3: 16 For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life. 17 For God sent not his Son into the world to condemn the world; but that the world through him might be saved.

Search God until you find Him and His truth in everything. So many people give up on knowing God more or seeing the goodness of God working in other people's lives who they are judging and condemning. Those who think He is mean without thoroughly researching each and every circumstance and reason, do not know God for who and what He is. God has not freely chosen to destroy any people in the Old Testament times or since. It has been the grace of God that removed people to stop their destruction of others, our ancestors, sometimes even before they had a chance to carry out such destruction. It happens, we've seen barbarians do the same thing over the past several years. God is all knowing, He knows the end of every detail of all things before the beginning of the foundations of human existence were assembled. But if they never happened then He would not know them, so people's choices must be made for history to be completed and the great justice of God's plan to be carried out.

God is holy (unworldly), omnipotent (all powerful), omniscient (all knowing), and omnipresent (everywhere at all times) and there is nothing that anybody does that surprises Him. He knows it will take you sometime to get it right. He even knows you won't recognize your error until you made the mistake a specific number of times. He is God beyond all time and space and is closer to each of us than we could possibly imagine. And He chose to save you, body soul and spirit, anyway if you allow Him to. If you are one of those who reject faith in Christ by others, someone, anyone else; it's time for you to be reborn in His Spirit today. He created all and provided salvation for all, and we are not in control of His choice to do so no matter how heinous we may feel someone else may be. We can prove God's love for ourselves and every other person who accepts His salvation together, or we can let our salvation and spirit starve because of the second greatest commandment to love our brothers and sisters in humanity as ourself. Every time we choose to believe we can't obey that commandment, we choose to believe God is a liar by expecting our obedience to do so. Is God a liar? No, His grace is sufficient for all of us to forgive as He has forgiven us. And, we have the option to live in excellent joy by being thrilled and excited to love and accept "Faith in Christ for ALL People". Next to knowing God more, there is nothing that can reap such great joy and benefits if we truly are a part of The Kingdom of God.

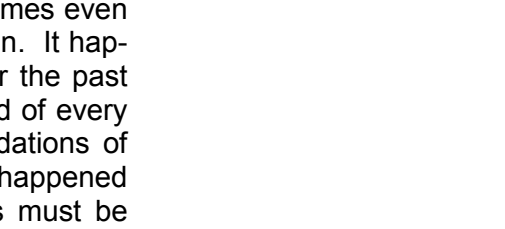

2012 Year Of Arrival

Do you remember 2010 A Year On The Move? Little did we know that 2010 was the beginning of the moving and shaking of many ministries and many faith filled acquaintances physically moving so God could position and reposition for His purposes. Not one move or shaking up was done without purpose. God knew what was going on all along. We've just all had to catch up for a couple more years to begin to understand the magnitude of what He is doing and getting ready to do with us in uncertain times.

Do you remember 2011 has been the Year On The Rise? Looking back, the moving has slowed, the dust has been settling, and the weak have become stronger. We have been asked to endure and our faith increased. If you lean God for patience, He gives you opportunities to be patience. Likewise, if you ask God to raise you up, He gives opportunities to grow and that is exactly where most of us have been this year.

I prayed for months before the Lord answered my hearts call for what 2012 holds in store. I found that the reason it took longer and more endurance is that He has been watching all of us to see if we are willing to take steps forward to take action to move into His hope and expectation in us. Yes, God knows all, but He gives us the choice to accept or deny His Will in, for, and through our lives. We have apparently made the God-centered choice because 2012 is the Year Of Arrival. What does that mean? It means we have arrived at a place where we can receive the fruit of previous years. It means God has seen fit to carry us through the tough times and bring those who have lived in ease to a place beyond themselves and participate by doing or giving of themselves rather than settle in comfort and self-indulgence. It means that God Almighty is ready to take us to our destination. Not only that, but the whole message is "2012 Year Of Arrival On The Way To Revival and Destiny!"

THE WISE ARRIVE - Matthew 2:11 And when they were come into the house, they saw the well child with Mary his mother, and fell down, and worshipped him: and they had opened their treasures, they presented unto him gifts; gold, and frankincense and myrrh.

No, in case you're wondering, I'm not expecting the end of the world in 2012, but if it happens then all the more joy to join in on the way through the clouds to heaven. What I am expecting though, is cracks in the fabric of the extra dimensional and supernatural glory of God to begin pouring out more and more of His miracles, signs, and wonders. It's time to live in expectation that God is revealing Himself to believers and nonbelievers alike. Though it may not seem like it in many ways, humanity has come a long way in the love and acceptance of Faith in Christ for ALL People. Most of the time we have no idea what all is going on behind the scenes until we start seeing things happening in the natural realm. Well, I'm believing God that He has been working behind the scenes building people's faith to love and accept ALL. I proclaim 2012 a year of exceptional revelation to many, many more believers as well as exceptional revelation to nonbelievers to begin really seeing the one collective church of true believers across denominations and divisions rejecting exclusion of anyone. Things that people have used as boundaries to protect cliques and almost cult-like circles falling and dissipating like dust in the wind of the Holy Spirit. Though many are going through great divisions and separations in the secular circles of economies, politics, religions, and employment, the Spirit of God would say now that the Spirit-filled, Spirit-led people of God will be coming together more with fellow believers who they would never associate with before. Those who depend on those secular realms listed will continue dividing and spreading apart showing their true colors as the Body of Christ coagulates together cell by cell.

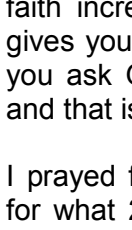

Take note that year of arrival doesn't mean year of completion, it simply means you and I will see and can participate from the beginning of the greatest move of God the world has ever know. Yes, many things have been happening along this line for years already. But those things have been preparation. Now is the time of harvest beginning, now is the acceptable hour when the Lighthouse of the People of God will begin to really shine. No more rejection, no more division of Spiritual doctrines. And don't think for a moment that I'm delusional for saying this, but this is a true dream of dreams and vision of visions as the Bible foretold for the end times. "Old men shall dream dreams and young men shall see visions" (Joel 2:28 and Acts 2:17). Have you ever wondered why this statement was an Old and New Testament sign of the end times? Men and women, young and old, have been dreaming dreams and envisioning with hope throughout the ages; it doesn't seem like anything new. But now, more than ever, there has been more reason for old men/people to lose hope in the situations of this world and less reason than ever for young men/people to hope in a vision for their future. Now, of all times and places throughout the earth; the economies, politics, religions, and work situation are the least likely of any other time to allow anyone to have a dream or vision of any kind for the future. Now, dreaming and envisioning has become a sign that only the truly faith and Spirit filled can see. Now is time for hope to resurrect as a witness and testimony of true faith in the true and just of God's people.

Matthew 25: 1 Then shall the kingdom of heaven be likened unto ten virgins, which took their lamps, and went forth to meet the bridegroom. 2 And five of them were wise, and five were foolish. 3 They that were foolish took their lamps, and took no oil with them: 4 But the wise took oil in their vessels with their lamps.

Believe today, be strong in faith today, keep your Spiritual oil lamp full today!

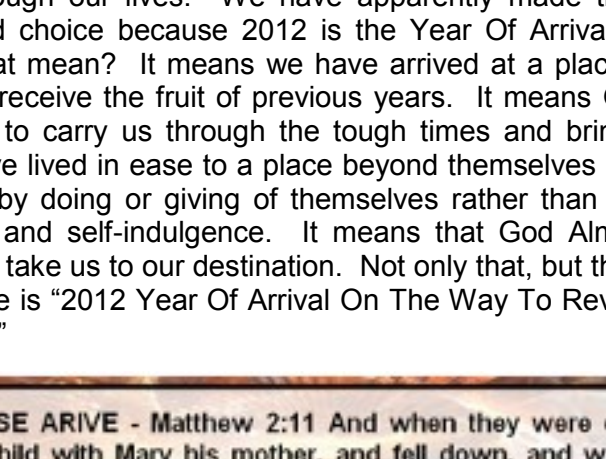

Happy New Year 2012!

May this be the greatest year you've ever had with Faith in Christ for ALL People.
